FREDERIC PROPERL AND HIS INPANT GARDENS . We have been kindly furnished by Miss Louisz FRANKENDERG, Teacher of the Infant Garden, at No. 19, East Rich street, with the following account of the celebrated FREDERIC FRORDEL and

· This devoted educator was born in a village named Operweissbach, in Thuringen. His father was the clergyman of that village, and his mother died when he was still an infant. When he was of sufficient age, he studied physics at Berlin, and was called to be Professor of that science in the same city. But he was so filled with love for his race, especially for children that he resolved to live and work only for edu-

Two of his friends, Henry Langethal and William Middenderff, assisted him in the hard task of establishing an institution for education in Keilhau, near Rudolstadt, in Thuringen. There he worked with all his strength of mind and body, put in all his own little fortune, and a larger one of his wife; for he cared but little for his own comfort, if he could but see his idea and his numis propert. In educating here of and his pupils prosper. In educating boys of eight to eighteen years, he frequently had pupils already spoiled by a careless education, and soon experienced that education must begin at an ear-lier and tenderer age. His true and deep love for children had no rest, until his rich mind con-ceived the idea of the Infant Gardens. He now watched, with the greatest attentiveness, children and even babes. Everything he observed he brought into a system and into systematic plays for babes and young children. He liked best to play and husy himself with poor children, and in this manner, beside seven hours of lessons a day, during a course of three months, he taught his scholars of both sexes. The writ-er of these lines enjoyed the pleasure of know-ing this celebrated educator as early as 1828, and was often moved by his affection for the little ones, which was the more remarkable, as he never had children of his own. But he had almost a motherly tenderness for them, for he felt, perhaps too deeply, the loss of a mother.

He was often called a fool, but was of too high a character and too full inspiration to mind it. He scarcely made his living by his arduous labor; but it mattered not to him, if he could but do anything for his beloved children.

I now proceed to give a short description of my honored teacher's system. He called each play a gift. The first is the ball, intended to teach the children to distinguish colors embracing a hundred different plays with songs.

The second is a cube, a roller and a ball, each of wood, to teach children the difference beginning children to a standing first and a ball, each of wood, to teach children the difference beginning the second of the second tween objects capable of standing firmly, and those of a perfect and imperfect motion. The third is a large cube divided into eight small ones, to build with. Six hundred different figures, built out of these eight cubes, have at ready been invented by infants. The fourth gift is a large cube divided into eight flat slats. With these one can build at least twelve hundred different figures. The fifth gift consists of twenty-seven cubes, of which three are divided into halves, and three into quarters. A great many nice and beautiful

.Beside these five gifts, there is a course o mathematical drawing on paper ruled with crossed lines, many kinds of nice paper work, and a great variety of plays, which together are well adapted for the cultivation of the heart, mind and hody of the little ones. I fear it would weary the patience of the friendly reader to describe them all, or to say more at this time about the Infant Gardens, and therefore I close. LOUISE FRANKENBERY.

SAD BEREAVEMENT,-We copy the following from the London, Madison county, Democrat, of yesterday, the 21st instant:

yesterday, the 21st instant:

Rev. C. W. Furlay, Pastor of the Preabyterian Church at this place, arrived here on Monday evening leat with the ramsine of his wife and her sister, both having died in Illinois, the former on Friday, the 15th inst., and the latter some aix weeks since. Mrs. Furlay came among our about a year ago a happy bride, and during her short stay here, her amishle nature and manifold virtues won the love aid esteem of all our citizens. She had been visiting her father in the West for some time, and on Thursday last, Mr. F. expected her return, but received instead a despatch to the effect that she was dying. He hastened to Illinois, and arrived about two hours before she breathed her last. After appropriate faneral services on Tuesday, by Rev. Dr. Hatsur, Mr. F. Furlay removed the bodies to Tranklin county, near Columbus, for interment. Mr. F. has the sincere sympathy of each and all our citizens in his melancholy bereavement.

STATE v. WHITE and others indicted for a riot, the jury rendered a verdict of acquittal. The Court was occupied, this forenoon, in hearing motions, and in other miscellaneous business.

LTThe Court of Common Pleas for Madison County will commence its Spring term a tLondon, on Tuesday next, the 26th inst.

A special dispatch to the Commercial Advertiser says the National Intelligencer of this morning has an editorial of six and a half col-ums, entitled "The Past, Present and Future," which is causing sensation in political circles here. It reviews the action of the seceding States severally and jointly, and takes positive grounds against coercion, or the employment of force in any way to restore the Federal authority. The Intelligencer's opinion is that the existing difficulties can only be settled by the interposition of a general convention of the States, and that the relation of the seceding States to the Federal Government can be changement. A compound remedy, designed to be the effectual Alterative that can be made, a concentrated extract of Para Saraspa so combined with other substances of so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the dissues Earsaparilla a reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fallow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:

Schopula and Eguptive Diseases, Ulcura.

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCURE, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILITS AND SYPHILITIC APPROXIMATIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DESILITY, DYSPESIA AND INDICESTION, ENSUPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

on St. Antiony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Inferior of the Blood.

This compound will be found a great premoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the time-ly expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered as event.

lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it but more because they for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla.

or any thing else. or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for of these have been thatter if any, Sarsapa-they not only contain little, if any, Sarsapathey not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which restrupon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the discuss it is intend-ed to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on
